—C. W. Pike, of Rockford, is in our city.

—H. W. Klare has gone to Chicago for Sunday.

—W. H. Mynard and J. W. Bermer went to Rochelle today.

—D. J. Wetherby and wife were down from the Kingdom today.

—William Rink has gone on a business trip to Chicago and Indiana.

—F. E. Stiteley is in Iowa on a combination trip of business and pleasure.

—Mr. R. G. Cornish, representing J. R. Woodbridge & Co. is still in our city.

—An A. Reed & Son's piano will be used at the Assembly Park concert tonight.

—Anyone finding a back curtain of a phaeton should return it to C. A. Dement's stable.

—Uriah Stroup's sister, Mrs. Ann Bennett, is here from Holiyoke, Colorado on a visit.

—Mrs. H. R. Bartlett, of North Dixon is entertaining her brother, L. C. Young of Chicago.

—Advertisements changed today: J. H. Morris & Son, Loveland & Stiteley, I. B Countryman.

—W. W. Downing says it always causes a cold wave when he shaves off his winter growth of beard.

—Subject of the evening sermon at the Baptist church tomorrow: "Evidences that the Bible is from God."

—Rev. Stockwell, of the M. E. church will occupy the pulpit at Grace Evangelical church tomorrow evening.

—John Grove while in Chicago yesterday witnessed the destruction wrought by the wind to shipping in the harbor.

—Chas. H. McKenney, a Dixon boy, now a prosperous merchant of Savanna, is building a fine residence in that city.

—If the weather continues to change as it did yesterday a person will be at home in either spring, summer or winter clothing.

—Miss Nellie Weibezahn is out from Chicago on a couple of weeks visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Weibezahn.

—The folks at the Warren Smith place in Palmyra froze ice cream yesterday with hail stones gathered after the storm on Thursday.

—Capt. Sarles will run his steam boat to Assembly Park tonight and, if the wind goes down, use the large barge for passengers.

—That was not an ill wind last night, though it was brisk and eager, for it blew away the frost, so to speak, and saved flower and bud.

—The Anderson restaurant building, formerly Mrs. E. E. Smith's millinery store, was sold to a Mr. Bartholomew this afternoon for $40.

—Put your wraps and overcoats on and come out to Assembly Park tonight where you will get fresh air and music, invigorating and inspiring.

—The annual reunion of the Thirteenth Illinois Infantry will be held in this city on Thursday of next week. It is their thirty-third anniversary.

—Mrs. Divan and little daughter, Edith took the afternoon train for Polo. Mrs. Divan will give a missionary address tomorrow evening at that place.

—Wm. H. Mead yesterday set a stickful of type in our new office, and so he still claims the honor of having set type in every printing office in the city.

—George Reed has rented the well appointed barn on First street belonging to Uriah Stroup and will run a livery stable there under the management of his son-in-law.

—Fred Mix, capitalist of Oregon, Ills., was in our city this week looking over his profitable real estate investments made through the Loveland & Stiteley agency.

—Mr. P. R. Hennessy entertained a number of his friends with a party at his home on East Chamberlain street, North Dixon, it being his 22nd birthday. All report an enjoyable time.

—Sheriff Stainbrook received a dispatch from Dubuque requesting that he arrest a horse thief who stole a span of black horses weighing nine hundred and fifty pounds each. The thief is dark complexioned, five feet eight inches tall. He had a boy and two trunks in the wagon. Twenty-five dollars reward.

—Our patent stone sidewalk man, J. W. Kelly, prevented a serious accident on our streets yesterday. The neck-yoke had broke from the end of a tongue of a wagon going down the Galena avenue hill to the bridge and the team was becoming unmanageable when Mr. Kelly, taking hold of the loose tongue, cramped the wagon until it could be stopped.

—A gasoline accident occurred Thursday morning in Sterling; but this time without the usual disastrous results. Mrs. Chas. A. Davis, in filling the reservoir to the stove, filled it too full, and some of it ran down the feed pipe; when she attempted to ignite the burner the whole thing blazed up in a sheet of flame, but with remarkable presence of mind the lady hurled the whole business out of doors and escaped any serious injury.

—Just fourteen years ago L. W. Mitchell bought for his daughter Myrtle, a Shetland pony as a birthday present. This was the foundation of the now famous Trinket farm, from which Mr Mitchell now turns off yearly in the neighborhood of 130 ponies. This first pony on Thursday last foaled her fourteenth colt. She is now twenty years old, and in the field cannot be distinguished from a seven-year-old animal.

City Council Discuss Street Railway.

At an adjourned meeting of the city council last evening the mayor and all the aldermen excepting Alderman Plein were present. The minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

Mr. Kramer complained that during the storms the water instead of being carried off by the gutters washed over his lot, corner of Sixth street and Nachusa avenue, doing great damage to his garden, and hedesired that a repetition of the damage be prevented by turning and directing the water into its proper channel. The matter was by the Mayor referred to the street committee.

Alderman Rosbrook stated that B. F. Shaw desired the removal of the stand pipe in front of THE TELEGRAPH office. This was referred to the fire and water committee with instructions to report at the next meeting.

A report of the committee on street railway franchise was called for, and Alderman Anderson, chairman of the committee, stated that the committee was not yet prepared to make any recommendations; that it was still investigating; and asked further time in which to make a final report.

Alderman Parsons moved that the committee report at the next regular meeting. Alderman Anderson thought the committee could be prepared to recommend action in the matter in a week if necessary; but saw no need for hurry, and advised deliberation, not only on the part of the committee but on the part of the council when the report shall have been submitted. It were better to take time now not only to thoroughly inform themselves on all points; but that the people at large may become conversant with the full merits of the question before final action is taken. The motion of Alderman Parsons was carried.

On invitation of Mayor Palmer, Alderman Anderson stated the result of the committee's investigations of the street railways in Rockford on Thursday, one member of the committee declining to go. The committee traveled extensively along all the lines of road, all over the city and into the suburbs, crossing all the bridges and the viaduct, several times. They did not make their mission generally known, but used their eyes and made inquiries freely of apparently disinterested persons on the various points upon which information was desired. They found three kinds of rails in use; the Philadelphia flat rail the common T rail and the girder or flanged T rail. The common T rail was largely used on the east side on brick and block paved streets and macadimized roads. There was no more difficulty in teams crossing these than the flat rails, still used to some extent in the heart of the city. On the viaduct both flat and T rails were in use, the latter superceding the former, and being much smoother riding. With regard to the cars frightening horses, the committee in its day's ride saw but five horses which showed any signs of fear, and on any of the bridges no fear was exhibited that was not easily controlled with the lines. On the viaduct, over 700 feet long and only 19 feet wide, the car track was laid on one side, the wagon track between this and the sidewalk. The only protection between the sidewalk and the wagon track was a string of 6x4 inch timbers bolted down. Our bridge is the same width as two of the three bridges in Rockford. The new bridge, built about a year ago, is the full width of the street.

Alderman Keyes spoke of some of the advantages of the T over the flat rail, stating that while they were, as laid in Rockford, equally unobstructive to teams, the T rail was uncomparably easier to ride on. They found that every one of whom inquiry was made—apparently disinterested users of the road—preferred the T rail. Inquiry elicited the information that in the three years since the construction of the viaduct no horse thereon had been sufficiently frightened to step over the 6 by 4 timber onto the sidewalk and no accident had occurred since the construction of the road. He explained the construction of the electric track so as to prevent injury to the bridge, and said that instructions were given to motor men in all cases where restive horses seemed to be frightened, to slow up, and if necessary stop the car and render any needed assistance to the driver of the frightened animal.

In reply to a question from Alderman Neighbour, Mr. Keyes said that instead of there being less traffic on the streets and bridges traversed by the electric cars, there was more travel than formerly as reported to him, and it was also stated to him that there was now no objection on the part of property owners to the tracks being laid along the line of their property; the earlier objectors being enthusiastically in favor of the road, which has not depreciated, but in nearly every case increased the value of the contiguous property.

Alderman Neighbour read a letter from a friend at Rockford, in no way connected with the street railway, in reply to inquiries on similar points, which corroborated the remarks already made. In conclusion it suggested that care be taken to guard well the interests of citizens, but that no city could afford to forego the opportunity of securing the advantages and development following the introduction of an electric street railway.

Mayor Palmer stated that he visited Rockford Thursday, not with the committee, but to satisfy himself with regard to some points. He had apprehended that our bridge was too narrow and perhaps not strong enough to permit of being used for an electric railway, and that the T rail would be objectionable. But on investigation, he confessed himself disappointed. He met the committee in Rockford and rode with the members a part of the time over a good many miles of the road, and observed that the wagon travel was almost invariably alongside the track and not between the rails, which were easily crossed, being nearly on a level with the road. Their 19 foot bridge is not as heavy as ours, similar in construction and until the last few years was the only wagon and street car bridge between Rockton and Byron. And it accommodated all the traffic of the city and country. With these

NINE WRECKS OCCUR OFF CHICAGO

Ten Men Known to Have Been Drowned—Hundreds View a Terrible Disaster.

The Myrtle Goes Down Outside the Government Pier at Chicago While Michigan Boulevard is Lined With Spectators—Loss of Life at Milwaukee—The Schooner Cummings Sinks in the Surf and Six of Her Crew, One a Woman, Die of Exposure and Drop Into the Angry Waters—Heroism in Life Saving.

CHICAGO, May 19. — A three-masted schooner is ashore this morning at Thirteenth street, supposed to be the Goodman. Seven men, the whole crew, can be seen on board, and the life-saving crew is at work trying to rescue them.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The storm which swept Lake Michgan was the most disastrous of recent years. Nine vessels were driven ashore within the city limits of Chicago, and of the crews ten men are known to have been drowned, and in every instance the boat and cargo is a complete loss. One schooner—the Myrtle—was wrecked just outside the government pier within half a mile of Michigan boulevard, and six of her crew went down to death in the sight of hundreds of people who lined the boulevard.

The wrecks as far as known at this writing are as follows: Schooner Lincoln Dall, driven ashore at Glencoe; schooner Myrtle, wrecked off Foot Harrison street; schooner Jack Thompson, wrecked off Twenty-fifth street; schooner Evening Star, wrecked off Twenty-seventh street; schooer Mercury, same; schooner J. Loomis McLaren, same: schooner Rainbow, wrecked off Twenty-second street; schooner C. J. Mixer, wrecked off One-hundredth street; unknown schooner ashore near South Chicago.

Names of the Men Lost.

The fatalities are: Anton Gunderson, of Manistee, seaman on the Lincoln Dall; Charles Cautiers, cook on the Jack Thompson; Joseph Spolan, mate of the McLaren, killed by a tow post being torn out when the vessel broke away from a tug; the entire crew of the Myrtle, six men, names not yet learned. The first vessel to go ashore was the Thompson. The boat arrived from Garden Bay, Mich., off the breakwater early in the afternoon and the captain refused a tug, intending to sail into the harbor. Before he was fairly under way he lost control of the vessel and she crashed into the Rainbow, carrying away the bow of that boat and smashing a great hole under her own bow and losing her foremast.

Rescued With the Lifeline.

The Thompson drifted south in spite of efforts to anchor her, and swept broadside on the shore. The men were rescued with a life line by the life saving crew. The Mercury, of Ludington, Mich., was being towed into the harbor when the tug was compelled to cast her off on account of the wind and waves. The Evening Star and Jack Thompson were grinding to pieces on the breakwater as the Mercury came near. Her crew were frantically waving their arms to the people on shore. A vain endeavor was made to get a line to them. Then Tom Thurston, one of the crew, got on some floating lumber and finally drifted ashore. Two others took the same chance and landed safely. A line was finally passed over the vessel and one by one the four men still aboard reached shore almost exhausted.

Followed the Vessel by Train.

The rope broke with the last man and he was rescued from the water with difficulty. The crew of the Lincoln Dall, with the exception of Gunderson, who was drowned, was rescued by the Evanston life-saving crew. The wreck of the Rainbow, a lumber laden schooner from Racine, was marked by the heroic rescue of her crew when almost all hope of saving them was abandoned. She had thrown out anchors, but began to drag them, and the life-saving crew loaded a life line apparatus upon a flat car of the Illinois Central, which runs close to the water's edge, and kept pace with the doomed vessel as the wind drove her southward. At Harmon court the line was fired, but missed the vessel. At Twelfth street another ineffectual shot was fired.

Heroic Rescue by a Young Man.

At this point the tug Spencer managed to put a line aboard the Rainbow, and four of the crew of seven men were hauled aboard the tug before the line broke. At Twenty-fifth street the three men on board put off on a small raft they had made, and William Havill, electrical engineer, with a line around his waist, swam out to it, about eighty feet from shore. The lumber from the Rainbow was tossing on the waves, and the young fellow, at the imminent risk of being brained, made his perilous way to the raft and called to Captain John Pew to jump overboard. Pew obeyed. Havill caught him, and the two men were hauled ashore.

Two More Deeds of Heroism.

A negro named E. J. Willis swam out in like manner and saved another man. This left one man on the raft, and Havill again swam out and brought off Jacob Knudson, a seaman living in Racine. The men were utterly exhausted and taken to Mercy hospital, where Pew lies in a critical condition.

IMPRISONED ON A CRIB.

Twenty-Seven Men Spend a Day and Night in Great Peril.

One of the most exciting features of the storm was the imprisonment of twenty-seven men who were working in the waterworks crib off Lake View, a mile from shore. Until the shelter which protected them was washed away the men were not believed to be in any danger. It was an unpleasant situation for them, however, as the water went over the crib constantly. The contractors made frantic efforts to get the men away, but failed in their endeavors to secure a tug, as it was said the attempt would surely wreck the vessel. As night fell the men on the crib hung up a red lantern, which was burning steadily at last report, and as the wind was gradually dying down it is believed that all of them will be rescued.

The schooner Myrtle, on which the chief loss of life occurred, was water-logged when she appeared off the harbor. She was driven before the gale and struck the Evening Star. Next she collided with the schooner Gifford and began to sink. The crew was plainly visible huddled together on top of the cabin. One was washed away, and another wave broke over her, leaving only three. One of them jumped on a plank and floated in close to the breakwater, where he lost his hold and went down. The two men remaining on the boat went down with her. It is known that the captain of the Myrtle was named Wilson, but nothing more is known of the crew.

Thomas Kelso, a fisherman, was washed off the government pier and drowned.

DROPPED OFF INTO THE WATER.

Death of Six of the Crew of the Cummings at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, May 19.—The gale that has swept over the lake is responsible for the following list of dead: Captain John McCullough, Marine City; Mate Timothy Bosour, Buffalo, N. Y.; Thomas Tuscott, sailor, Marine City; unknown sailor, Marine City; sailor named "Jim," Marine City; Cook, woman, unknown, Buffalo, N. Y. The saved were Robert Patterson, of Kingston, Ont., and Frank Goordes, a surfman of No. 6 Milwaukee life-saving station. All except Goordes were members of the crew of the schooner Cummings, which sank in the surf early in the morning, her crew taking to rigging.

All day the life savers worked to rescue this crew. The crew at the station here got out to the vessel, but could not stay near the wreck long enough to take anybody off. On returning to the shore, having left one of its crew on the wreck, the lifeboat was capsized and its crew had a very narrow escape, two being so badly done up that they had to go under the care of physicians.

Then the Racine lifeboat and crew were sent for and a tug was made ready to take it in tow as soon as it arrived. Upon her arrival the attempt to reach the perishing people was again made and succeeded, but five men and a woman were dead before the rescue was at hand. The men who perished fell from their perches in the crosstrees to the water and sank out of sight like pieces of lead. The body of the woman was lashed to the rigging to which she escaped when the vessel began to sink.

Six thousand people lined the piers and the shores of Jones' island and the mainland when the tug Knight Templar towed the life-savers out.

One hundred feet of line separated the tug from the boat and back of the boat was towed an empty surf boat. With bow to the waves the Knight Templar permitted the boat to drop down toward the wreck. When the surf boat was within fifty yards of the wreck a human figure that had been clinging to the rigging of the mizzenmast was seen to throw up its hands and fall backward into the boiling waves, being instantly lost to sight. A short time before another of those clinging to the ropes had also let go his hold and perished. A groan went up from the crowd as each body was lost to sight, and then all eyes centered on the surf boat as it dropped back beside the sunken vessel. Two figures slowly descended the shrouds of the mizzenmast and clung to lines but a few feet above the waves.

Five minutes passed as attempt after attempt was made by the life-savers to swing the lifeboat near the waiting men. A cry went up from the crowd on shore as one figure was seen to leap from the rigging and land in the boat. Two minutes later a man sprang far out, and as the boat ascended a wave it was seen that there were five figures in the boat. Then a cheer that drowned the roaring of the breakers went up from the throats on shore. Slowly the long line that held the surf boat was paid out, and the two rescued men were permitted to drift toward the shore—one moment lost to sight in the foaming breakers, and again alive and sure of rescue as the boat rose on the top of some mighty billow.

Along the beach at the foot of Jones island a crowd ran to meet the rescued men; willing hands were stretched out to reach them, and they were dragged from the boat to a place of safety. Surfman Goordes, when he boarded the schooner, had proceeded to lash the members of the crew to the rigging, but it is supposed that they loosened the ropes to change their positions, hoping to escape the force of the blizzard of pelting snow and rain, and were so stiff that they could not make new fastenings, and he could do nothing for them. Captain McCullough was the second man to fall, shooting down into the water as hundreds of field-glasses were trained on the scene from shore. Tuscott fell first, and the others soon after the captain.

It was the fiercest storm that has swept the west shore of Lake Michigan since the crib disaster two years ago, when fourteen lives were lost. The Cummings and the schooner C. C. Barnes tried to enter the harbor early in the day and failed to make the piers, and were soon drifting toward the beach on Jones' island. The crew of the Barnes escaped and the vessel can be released, as she is light and on a sandy bottom.

There are no other wrecks so far as known south of this city, although several boats are reported in distress in the vicinity of Racine reef. Two little schooners were running along under bare poles south of Racine North point at dark, and a big three-and-aft coaler came to anchor at Racine lighthouse.

Went Too Hard Aground for Loss of Life.

GREEN BAY, Wis., May 19.—In the worst storm that has swept Green Bay for years the steambarge Edwin S. Tice, light bound for this port for lumber, went ashore at Grass island, three miles from here. Her consort, the steamer Allegheny, cut loose before the Tice went aground and rode out the storm at anchor. No fears are entertained for the crew or boat, as the latter is so hard aground that she may have to be dredged out when the sea moderates.

Wouldn't Listen to Their Employer.

MINONK, Ills., May 19.—The miners of the Chicago and Minonk Coal and Tile Works company held a meeting here at which K. L. Ames, the manager of the company, began to address them, offering them the old scale of wages. He got no further, as the men began to hoot and yell and left the building in a body.

Business at the Clearing Houses.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The total clearances at the principal cities of the United States for the week ended yesterday were $887,677,073, a decrease of 27.6 per cent. from the corresponding date of last year.

Liquor Law for Muscatine.

MUSCATINE, Ia., May 19.—Muscatine will now attempt to conform to the new Iowa liquor law. Its strict enforcement will close about twenty saloons.

The Mob Is the Law Now.

LIDGERWOOD, N. D., May 19.—A mob completely wrecked two blind-pig saloons, destroying all the furniture and emptying the liquor in the street.

MOVED SMOOTHLY.

Senate Affairs, for the First Time in Weeks.

MUCH PROGRESS WITH THE TARIFF.

Republicans Secure an Advance in Duties on Stone, Dressed and Undressed—Eleven Pages of the Bill Completed and the Metal Schedule Reached—House Not to Put Tariff Riders on Appropriation Bills, and the Reason Therefor.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—White-winged peace hovered over the senate. As a result of the compromise reached at the drawn battle Thursday night the resolution to inaugurate longer hours beginning next Monday, commencing at 10 a. m., was agreed to and then the senate for the first time since the tariff debate began settled down to real earnest work on the schedules of the tariff. For five hours the consideration was steadily pushed, the result being that eleven pages of the bill were disposed of—more progress than has been made in the entire three weeks during which the bill has been considered by paragraphs. The "chemical schedule" was completed and the "earth, earthenware and glass schedule," excepting items 84 to 92 inclusive, which were passed over by agreement, was finished. Schedule C, "metals and manufactures of iron and steel" had been reached, when the senate at 5 o'clock went into executive session.

Stone Taken Off the Free List.

The Republicans won their first victory in their efforts to secure higher rates than those granted by the majority. They induced the Democrats to take rough building and monumental stone, limestone, freestone, granite, sandstone, etc., from the free list and place them on the dutiable list at 7 cents per cubic foot and to increase the duty on this class of dressed stone from 20 to 30 per cent. ad valorem. The feature of the day was the denial of half a dozen Republican senators that any agreement had been reached to allow the bill to ultimately come to a vote, and the bold announcement of Messrs. Frye and Dolph that they stood ready to go any length and use any parliamentary methods to defeat the passage of the bill.

A Few of the Rates That Were Fixed.

Some of the rates agreed on during the day were as follows: Brick, unglazed, 25 per cent.; fire brick, $1 per ton; lime, 50 cents per 100 pounds; plaster of paris, ground, $1 per ton; plaster of paris, calcined, $1.25; clays, unwrought, $1 per ton; clays, wrought, $2 per ton; cast polished glass, looking glass, etc., not exceeding 24 by 60 square inches, 23 cents per square foot; above that, 38 cents; spectacles, 40 per cent; marble, rough, 50 cents per cubic foot; marble, dressed, 85 cents per cubic foot; marble manufactured, 45 per cent; granite and other building stone, rough, 11 cents; dressed, 30 per cent.; grindstones, 10 per cent; roofing slates, 25 per cent.

No Tariff Riders in the House.

The tariff managers of the house have determined to take no further steps to ward offsetting the tariff increases in sugar and other tariff amendments by riders to appropriation bills. The purpose had been to amend the legislative appropriation by a provision making sugar free. Breckinridge of Arkansas, of the ways and means committee, recently proposed a new regulation permiting tariff amendments to the appropriation bills. Sayres, of the appropriation committee, and Cary of Texas introduced similar bills. These various rules went to the committee on rules, were they have not been acted on. Notwithstanding this fact, the legislative appropriation bill is up, and it will be passed without any tariff riders.

Doesn't Apply to Bonnties.

In deciding on this course the tariff leaders in the house concluded that it would be unwise to take any step which might embarrass the tariff bill as a whole in the senate. They say, however, that the introduction of the Breckinridge rule had the effect of influencing the Louisiana sugar convention to take conservative action. Having accomplished this much the house leaders do not think it advisable to openly contest on sugar until the senate goes further along on the bill. This conclusion applies to sugar duties, but not to the bounty. It is said that abolition of the bounty may be taken up without a new rule, as it is the privilege of any member to offer a bounty amendment.

FRAUDS IN ARMOR PLATES.

Dunphy Wants the House to Appoint a Committee.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Dunphy of New York had a hearing before the house rules committee on his resolution to investigate the naval armor plate frauds. He went into the details of the frauds to show the committee the desirability of probing the matter to the bottom. Dunphy said that the frauds for which the government had already assessed the Carnegie company $140,000 occurred between November, 1892, and September, 1893. The same class of evidence, he said, showed that similar irregularities occurred prior to November, 1892, and subsequently to September, 1893. It was further urged that the investigation now making by officers of the navy department would be futile, as there was no power to summon witnesses or to administer oaths to those who voluntarily appeared.

Dunphy had statistics showing that $1,200,000 would soon fall due to the Carnegie company. The payment could not be delayed, and if once made it would cut off an investigation and destroy all means of redress. Speaker Crisp and his associates on the committee questioned Dunphy on the details of the alleged frauds. He specified one instance in which an armor-plate on the Monterey is said to contain a blowhole eighteen inches long.

The man who saw the blow hole when the armor was cast, it was alleged, dropped his card in the hole and is said to be ready to locate the defective plate and identify it by his card. The committee took no action, but Dunphy believes they will report back the resolution with a recommendation that will start the investigation at once.

THAT UNIVERSAL INQUISITION

Will Begin Its Work as Soon as the Money Is Provided.

WASHINGTON, May 19. — It is probable that the senate committee appointed to investigate the charges of attempted bribery of Hunton and Kyle and the alleged operations of the sugar trust to influence legislation will begin its sittings early next week. Senator Gray said that before any definite arrangements could be made for the committee meetings it would be necessary to obtain the consent of the senate for the committee to sit while the senate is in session, and for the allowance of the money for conducting the inquiry. Gray also said that he had no special plans for the investigation and would leave the committee to say what programme it should pursue. It is probable the committee will hold open sessions.

Doings in Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The senate completed eleven pages of the tariff bill, and took rough building stone from the free list and made it dutiable at 7 cents a cubic foot, also increasing the duty on dressed stone to 30 per cent. The resolution to meet, beginning Monday, at 10 a. m. was adopted. An executive session was held.

The house took up the legislative, executive, and judicial appropriation bill, and during its consideration discussed the sugar bounty, pensions, and deduction of pay of members for absence. A night session was held as usual on Friday. Adjourned to Monday.

Coxey et al. Must Suffer.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Commonweal leaders Coxey, Browne and Jones have been again defeated in the courts and sentence will be passed upon them today. After arguments lasting over an hour Judge Bradley, of the District supreme court, refused to grant the writ of certiorari.

Labor Bureau Officials Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The officials of labor bureaus, who have been holding a three-days' convention here, have finished their work and adjourned, to meet in Minneapolis next year. State authorities were asked to legislate with a view of enacting a more equitable system of taxation.

Wilson's Murderer Escapes.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—News is received here that Arguellas, who murdered the American Wilson in Nicaragua, has escaped. The Nicaraguan government will be expected to spare no effort to recapture him.

SUITS AGAINST APPORTIONMENT.

Republicans Break Into the One the Populists Inaugurated.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 19.—At 1 o'clock yesterday morning W. C. Blair, the Populist petitioner, and his attorney, H. G. Jones, got in from Mount Vernon. They routed out the circuit clerk and brought a new suit against the secretary of state in the form of injunction proceedings to restrain him from certifying to nominations for representative to the county clerks under the apportionment acts of 1882 and 1893. The suit filed a week ago was a mandamus proceeding. A demurrer to the petition in the original suit was also filed late Thursday night, and this was called up before Judge Creighton yesterday morning.

The state was represented by Attorney General Moloney, Delos P. Phelps and Attorney Graham, and they were about to argue when the Republicans put in a word through ex-Assistant Attorney General Smith, and asked a postponement and opportunity to intervene. This request was vigorously opposed by both sides, but Judge Creighton said that all the people of the state were interested in this proceeding, and inasmuch as the Republican apportionment act of 1882 was assailed Republicans should be given an opportunity to be heard. He postponed the arguments and set the hearing for May 25.

THOMPSON'S TRICK WAS SLICK.

But the Victims Got "Onto" It and His Profits Are Nil.

ST. LOUIS, May 19.—William C. Thompson is in custody here on a charge of swindling. He admits his guilt. He sent to his own address at nearly 200 hotels in the western states small packages by express. In appearance they were money packages and the valuation marked on them was usually $25 and $40. A few days later he sent to the same hotelkeepers letters stating that he had ordered a jeweler in St. Louis to send his watch to him there by express, and requested the hotel man to pay the C. O. D. charges.

The money packages would be looked upon by the hotelkeeper as ample security, so that when a day or two later a little square box purporting to contain a watch would be delivered the $2 charges would be paid. Of course neither package contained anything of value. Thompson began about May 1, using the Adams Express company. The trick was discovered and a trap was set, which resulted in his arrest. Thompson, therefore, realized nothing from his scheme.

Life Term Indicated for Meyer.

NEW YORK, May 19.—The second trial of Dr. Henry C. F. Meyer has ended in a verdict of murder in the second degree, which means life imprisonment in this state. The charge was the murder by poison of one Brandt in order to get his life insurance. Brandt had married Dr. Meyer's wife, supposing her a single woman, whereas she was in reality the doctor's confederate. It was expected that she would receive the insurance and then she and the doctor would enjoy it together. It is alleged that the doctor had been guilty of similar crimes before.

Best Held to the Grand Jury.

ST. PAUL, May 19.—Engineer W. B. Best, who deserted his engine on the main line during the strike on the Great Northern, has been held to the June term of the United States grand jury in $300 bonds, on the charge of conspiring to interfere with the running of trains carrying the United States mails. Best's case is the one that nearly precipitated a second strike over the road, the company having positively refused to reinstate him.

Rapid Trip Around the World.

LONDON, May 19.—George Griffiths, who started from London at 1 o'clock on the morning of March 12 to circumnavigate the world and to beat the record of seventy-four days made by Nellie Bly, of New York, has arrived here, having accomplished his feat in sixty-four days, eleven hours and twenty minutes. Griffiths expected at the start to cover the distance in sixty days. He had previously been around the world three times.

Mr. Lo, He's Pretty "Thrifty."

GUTHRIE, O. T., May 19.—Several months ago the Otoe Indians closed up all the fords of their reservation in the Strip and erected toll bridges, compelling the hundreds of people traveling overland to pay toll. The receipts from these bridges have been large, and the tribe is now arranging to use the funds on May 30 by giving a grand ghost dance and feast, to which all the neighboring tribes have been invited.

The Base Ball Scores.

CHICAGO, May 19.—League scores on the diamond are reported as follows: At Philadelphia—Boston 4, Philadelphia 5; at New York—Brooklyn 16, New York 7,

WAR AT THE MINES

Foreshown by the Preparations Making at Pittsburg.

OPERATORS UNITING IN THE FIGHT

As a Result of the Conference at Cleveland — Sheriff Buying Firearms and Getting Men Ready for Trouble—The View of an Illinois Strike Leader—Strikers in Colorado Prepare to Seize a Train —"Quit Work or Fight" in Idaho.

PITTSBURG, May 19.—The authorities of Allegheny county are preparing for trouble in the miners' strike. Since the return of the operators from Cleveland a sentiment has been crystalizing in favor of an attempt to break the strike. The breach between the operators in favor of a settlement and those opposed is being rapidly closed up, and it is probable that within the next few days a decision will be arrived at to start one or more mines by bringing in new men and protecting them at the cost of all the operators.

Operators Feel Belligerent.

The Pittsburg coal operators have returned in a decidedly belligerent humor. The friendly operators are angry, and it is likely that they will now join the fighting mine owners and inaugurate a test of endurance with the miners. To decide upon what course is best to pursue Secretary R. J. Bailey has called a special meeting of all railway operators in this district next Monday. A formal meeting of all coal operators of western Pennsylvania has also been called. At that meeting the committee, of which Mr. Alexander Dempster is chairman, will report upon the convention.

Sheriff Buying Some Shotguns.

Sheriff Richardson has purchased fifty repeating shotguns and has stored away about 500 revolvers, with plenty of ammunition for both. Arrangements have also been made whereby 200 or 300 men who are willing to serve as deputies in an emergency can be had at short notice. These preparations have been made on the quiet. County Commissioner Weir, speaking for the commissioners, said: "We believe it is cheaper to invest in some protection than to have the county pay big bills for damages, as it had to do after the railroad riots. These preparations are for any emergency that may arise."

SETTLEMENT BY DISTRICTS.

What a Mine Strike Leader Thinks the Operators Will Now Attempt.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., May 19.—W. J. Guymon, state secretary of the United Mine Workers of Illinois, said regarding the conference at Cleveland between the operators and miners: "I think an attempt will now be made by the operators to settle the strike by districts and turn the movement into local strikes. The battle is won, and all miners should stand together and reap the reward and not give it away to those who would enslave them."

During the past three days four organizers in Southern Illinois have instituted fourteen lodges, and advices from Staunton state that only 111 out of the 450 men employed in shafts 6 and 7 of the Consolidated Coal company are at work there.

Preparing to Seize a Train.

FLORENCE, Colo., May 19.—Over 600 coal miners are gathered at the Denver and Rio Grande station here, their intention being to seize a train that they may reach Rouse and Walesburg, where an immense miners' meeting is to be held tomorrow. They are determined to force the miners to strike. The striking miners of Starkville and Sopris, 400 strong, going towards Berwind and Hastings have been intercepted by a sheriff's posse and dispersed by a show of Winchesters.

The Coeur d'Alene Situation.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 19.—A Boise, Ida., special says: The limit set by the Miners' union in the Coeur d'Alene region for all non-union men to join the union or quit work has expired. "Paddy" Burk is at Wardner and says they must either quit work or fight. Affairs there have assumed an ugly look. Governor McConnell has been advised that serious trouble is imminent and that the militia is powerless.

Distributing Provisions at Pullman.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The problem that faced the Pullman strikers—how to live pending the strike—is in course of solution though the efforts of friends. The firm of Hopkins & Secord—Hopkins being the mayor of Chicago—has given $1,500 worth of provision and committees are busy soliciting subscriptions for the strikers, and relief committees are at work. There are no new developments as to the strike.

Will Attempt to End the Strike.

PEORIA, Ills., May 19.—The Peoria board of trade has appointed a committee to confer with the mine owners and manufacturers with a view to seeing whether anything can be done toward a settlement of the strike. It is announced that three mines in this vicinity will resume operations Monday.

Strikers Cut the Telephone Wires.

WILKESBARRE, May 16.—An armed guard has been placed around Keystone Mine at Parsons, ten miles from this place, where a strike is in progress. The strikers have cut the telephone wires to this city and trouble is feared. It is impossible to get any details.

Debs' Union to Take a Hand.

COLUMBUS, O., May 19.—The current talk here among labor leaders is that if the coal operators manage to partially resume the American Railway Union will immediately inaugarate a tie-up of all roads that haul the coal mined.

Frye Finds No Welcome at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, May 19.—General Frye's industrial army which reached the outskirts of the city has asked permission to hold a mass-meeting in the city through a local labor committee, but the mayor is opposed to their establishing a camp in the city limits and also to the holding of a meeting. He has given orders that the army get away as soon as possible.

Illinois Town in Flames.

ST LOUIS, Mo., May 19.—A special to The Republic from Tower Hill, Ills., says: Fire broke out in the business portion of this city last night and at 1 a. m. was raging fiercely. The fire was first noticed in Dr. J. Brandt's office. A number of stores have been burned to the ground and more will go.

Wife-Murderer Hanged.

ASTORIA, Or., May 19.—John Hanson was hanged at noon for the murder of his wife about one year ago.

PRESBYTERIAN SEMINARIES.

Report in Favor of Making Them Subject to the General Assembly.

SARATOGA, N. Y., May 19.—In the Presbyterian general assembly a report on church unity was made by Joseph T. Smith, of Baltimore, recommending a plan of federation between the Presbyterian church here represented and the seven other bodies more or less allied with it in belief and practice. Henry Preserved Smith's appeal was referred to a committee. The report on church seminaries then came up—two of them. The majority report favored the securing of legislation by existing seminaries making their funds to be held in trust for the teaching of Presbyterian doctrines and no other.

Also that the election of trustees, directors or other governing bodies; appointment, election or transfer of professors or teachers, shall be subject to the approval of the general assembly, which can provide against the violation of these principles; and that all seminaries hereafter established must conform to the above recommendations. The minority report was in effect that matters were well enough as they were.

PATRIOTIC PILGRIMS

SUMMER STUDENTS TO VISIT HISTORIC SCENES.

A Party of Philadelphians Will Follow the Line of Washington's March From Boston to the Continental Capital—A Royal Road to Learning.

The American Society For the Extension of University Teaching, formed four years ago in Philadelphia, is most active in promoting the cause of higher education among the people and seems to neglect no means by which its object may be achieved. For its forthcoming summer meeting, to be held in the buildings of the University of Pennsylvania during the month of July, an extensive and attractive programme of lecture courses has been arranged in six different departments, embracing literature, science and art, pedagogy, music, mathematics, history and civics, economics and sociology. These lectures will be given by the best known authorities in our country on their various specialties, and it is hard to think of a pleasanter or more profitable way of spending a four weeks' vacation than in listening to their teaching on these important subjects under pleasant conditions.

A feature of the summer meeting that will be of special interest to those who like to combine pleasure and study is the pilgrimages that will be made to historical places in and around Philadelphia on Saturdays and which will be completed at the close of the meeting by a pilgrimage that will follow Washington's line of march from Boston to Philadelphia. These pilgrimages will be made under the direction of Mr. Lyman P. Powell, one of the historical lecturers of the extension society, who inaugurated the historical pilgrimages of the society's summer meeting of last year to the battlefields of the Brandywine, Germantown and Valley Forge, the success of which admirably demonstrated the educational possibilities of such tours.

Mr. Powell has high hopes of beneficent results from these historical pilgrimages. "Who can doubt," he says, "that a renaissance of patriotism will follow hard upon a renaissance of the mediæval pilgrimage rationalized to suit American conditions? The soil of the Atlantic seaboard has been sanctified by the deeds of brave men. Here are the historic sources of our greatness, and hither will the modern pilgrim first resort. The old Birmingham meeting house on the field of the Brandywine and the redoubts and intrenchments of Valley Forge are still eloquent sermons in stone and in earth of the great struggle which marked a transition period in our public life.

"The historical pilgrimage will stir the imagination of the average American, vivify for him a too monotonous existence, quicken his interest in a heroic past and give him an appreciation of a fruitful present. It may not solve the problems at issue between Jefferson and Hamilton. It may tell him nothing concerning the relative merits of monometallism and bimetallism. It will at least manifest the conditions under which our great heroes won or lost their laurels.

"A visit to Saratoga may show more clearly than our books that Benedict Arnold was a disappointed and ill used soldier before ever he was a traitor to his country. A pilgrimage to Valley Forge is needed to prove that Gettysburg would not today use up six pages of Baedeker's United States had not Baron Steuben in that bitter winter of 1777-8 transformed an untrained, hungry, frozen, naked yeomanry into an effective army, while Washington in his stone cottage burnt the midnight oil in planning, counseling and coordinating the contrary and rebellious elements in the army and in congress.

"Why, then, may not the historical pilgrimage become a permanent educational factor? Our land is a great historical laboratory in which our historic wealth has been too long neglected. The magnificent distances of the American continent will deter more than one from going to Philadelphia to join the pilgrimage of 1894. But nothing need deter the patriotic student of American history from exploiting the wasted wealth which lies all about him. There is scarcely a spot, east or west, which is not within easy access of some historic survival which has in it a lesson for the child and for the adult."

The New England pilgrimage will be inaugurated on July 28 by public meetings in the afternoon and evening in Independence hall, at which Hon. H. L. Carson will deliver an address in celebration of the appointment of Washington as commander in chief of the American army, and Mr. Talcott Williams will speak on the place of Philadelphia in American history. July 29 will be Sunday, and the pilgrims will attend services at the historic Christ church, where Washington worshiped. On July 30 the pilgrimage starts for Boston, the only stop on the way being made at Hartford, where the travelers will be the guests for a few hours of the Connecticut Historical society.

The next four days will be devoted to visiting places of historic interest in and around Boston, Cambridge, Lexington, Concord, Salem, Plymouth and Nahant, at each of which such notable men as Edward Everett Hale, Edwin D. Mead, Thomas Wentworth Higginson, Professor John Fiske, Hezekiah Butterworth, Robert S. Rantoul and others will talk to the pilgrims upon some phase of history connected with the spot. At Cambridge Longfellow's daughter will receive the pilgrims in her father's old home, and at Salem United States Senator Lodge will give a reception in their honor.

At the end of the week the travelers will turn their faces toward the Hudson, stopping by the way at Pomfret, the home of Israel Putnam, and then going on to Fishkill, Newburg, West Point, Tarrytown and New York city, the series of addresses by famous men well acquainted with the localities visited being kept up all the way. Mr. Richard Watson Gilder and Professor H. P. Johnson will act as ciceroes for the visitors in New York city.

A day or two spent in New Jersey will complete the pilgrimage, and there the addresses will be delivered by Adjutant General William S. Stryker at Trenton and Professor William M. Sloane at Princeton. The return to Philadelphia will be made about Aug 9

A Timely Bit of Advice.

In these times of grip and pneumonia it is of great importance that we should know where to look for a safe and sure remedy. A slight cold may become a serious one, the scarcely noticeable pain in the chest is too often the forerunner of pneumonia. The first cough many lead to consumption (a cough is always dangerous.) Never neglect a cold or cough for even one day, but get at once, as a safe and sure remedy, Kemp's Balsam, the best cough cure, which is recommended on all sides. It should be kept in the house regularly to avoid delay when needed. It is sold at all the drug stores. d&w

THE best investment in real estate is to keep buildings well painted. Paint protects the house and saves repairs. You sometimes want to sell—many a good house has remained unsold for want of paint. The rule should be, though, "the best paint or none." That means

A NARROW ESCAPE!

How it Happened.

The following remarkable event in a lady's life will interest the reader: "For a long time I had a terrible pain at my heart, which fluttered almost incessantly. I had no appetite and could not sleep. I would be compelled to sit up in bed and belch gas from my stomach until I thought every minute would be my last. There was a feeling of oppression about my heart, and I was afraid to draw a full breath. I couldn't sweep a room without sitting down and resting; but, thank God, by the help of New Heart Cure all that is past and I feel like another woman. Before using the New Heart Cure I had taken different so-called remedies and been treated by doctors without any benefit until I was both discouraged and disgusted. My husband bought me a bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and am happy to say I never regretted it, as I now have a splendid appetite and sleep well. I weighed 125 pounds when I began taking the remedy, and now I weigh 130½. Its effect in my case has been truly marvelous. It far surpasses any other medicine I have ever taken or any benefit I ever received from physicians."—Mrs. Harry Starr, Pottsville, Pa., October 12, 1892.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. This great discovery by an eminent specialist in heart disease, contains neither opiates nor dangerous drugs.

facts before him, his preconceived opinions were considerably modified. He had observed a high strung horse approaching the electric cars, but there were no disastrous results. If we are to have an electric railway we must overcome our prejudices, and as others had done with bridges much lighter, must give them the use of our bridge. He now thought that the passage of such cars would be far less objectionable and detrimental than many things that now are of frequent occurrence on the bridge. Some of the advantages were alluded to in reply to a remark by Prof. Neighbor, namely the convenience of people who do not own horses and the rapid increase of the price of suburban property along the lines of electric travel.

Alderman Parsons gave the result of his observation of electric street car lines at Fortress Monroe and Hampton, where they carry freight through the business streets. On inquiry he found that the lines of road had wonderfully increased the value of property. He saw no trouble at their bridges, and found that the common T rail is generally used both there and at New Orleans and Atlanta.

Alderman Rosbrook stated the substance of two communications from business men at Rockford in reply to inquiries he had made, which were in unison with the observations detailed by the special committee, and stating that there was today an electric railway track on every bridge in Rockford, and if after a fair trial on the first there were any serious objection thereto, the people would certainly have been very foolish to grant a franchise to cross the others.

Alderman Neighbour said he had yet to learn of the first bridge in the entire country built exclusively for electrical street car traffic.

Expressions were called for from the citizens present, and Hon. S. H. Bethea in response said that while the opinions of the committee should have due weight, they had not in anyway changed his objection to the use of our bridge, the conditions in Rockford being different from those in Dixon. He counselled caution and thought the expressed objection of the people, even though it might spring somewhat from prejudice, should receive consideration.

W. B. Page stated that fully one-third of the farmers who come to the Condensed Milk factory with their milk objected to the use of the bridge by the cars, and thought that if their trade was of any value to the city, their objection should have some weight. Some of his remarks were aimed at the position taken by Mayor Palmer, who in reply made more clear his reasons for a change of views of several important points of the project.

The council then adjourned to meet in regular session on Friday evening, June first.

A Valuable Relic of the Black Hawk War Recovered.

Congressman Hitt, of this Distict, has recently made a historical discovery of much interest to the State of Illinois and to the widows and survivors of the soldiers of the Black Hawk war. General Robert Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, then a lieutenant and Assistant Adjutant General in the United States army, kept the original muster roll of the Illinois regiments, battalions, and companies of the Black Hawk war. The widow of General Anderson, now a resident of Washington, D. C., has carefully preserved this muster roll and has been for some time in conference with Congressman Hitt as to the best means of preserving it as a permanent record that they may be of benefit to the survivors and widows who are entitled to pensions, but have never been able to secure them because of absence of an official record. Mrs. Anderson and Congressman Hitt have decided that the archives of the State of Illinois are the proper place in which to deposit these original muster rolls and they have been sent to the Governor of Illinois.

In addition to the muster rolls and various letters and orders, there is a large record volume kept at the time, beginning June 10, 1832, containing an abstract of of muster rolls of First, Second and Third brigades, the spy batallion, and the independent companies, including the company of Captain Elijah Iles, and later the company of Captain Jacob M. Early, on the rolls of which companies appears No. 4 in the list of "privates," "A. Lincoln, Sangamon county." There are also in the same volume many other entries of interest touching the organizations of the Black Hawk war, including full lists of of the Indian prisoners taken by Lieutenant Anderson at Rock Island, where General Scott placed them under his charge, and of Black Hawk's party, brought by him from Prairie du Chien to Jefferson barracks. At the beginning of the book, on the first two pages, is a long introductory and descriptive note, written March 4, 1869, by General Anderson, which sets out the contents of the book, the main part of which is devoted to an abstract of muster rolls

These rolls, now more than sixty years o'd, are original and authentic record of services of individuals, many of whom survive, and who by recent legislation of Congress are entitled to pensions for service in defense of our State and country. With these papers Mrs. Anderson sends the following letter to Governor Altgeld:

'Governor J. P. Altgeld—Dear Sir: My husband, General Robert Anderson, left among his papers the muster rolls of the Illinois soldiers who served in the Black Hawk war of 1832. These rolls I have handed to Mr. Hitt to be given to the State of Illinois, where we think they ought to be kept. I hope they will be cared for, as they are records of important events and names worth preserving, and I feel a deep personal interest that they may be always open for the use of those who may need to properly use them especially the survivors and widows of those soldiers. This was my husband's purpose, which I wish carried out, and that these papers may ever be evident of the part he bore in the early history of Illinois. Very truly yours,
E. B. ANDERSON.

Suicide of Cock Robbin.

A robbin committed suicide in West Dixon yesterday and the parties who saw the act attribute it to despondency caused by these Democratic hard times. The bird flew into a tree with a long string in its beak which became entangled among the twigs and around the bird's neck and after a long struggle cock robbin hung lifeless at the end of the string.

DANVILLE, Ill., May 19.—Judge Bookwalter today sustained the Illinois apportionment and denied application of petioners for injunction.

No Treadle Dance.

After the dance is over
After the break of morn
Then will the No Treadle employes
Go to work with the flush of dawn.

Last evening will long be remembered by those young ladies and gentlemen who attended the lovely dance given by the No Treadle Club.

As the soft strains of the orchestra floated away for the first set, a person dropping in would have thought he was in paradise, for before him were those lovely figures and faces Dixon so prides itself upon.

The most notable figures which formed a part of this lovely dance were: Miss Martin, dressed in an exquisite green dress, trimmed in white lace; Miss Ada Wilkinson, of Sterling, wore a lovely pink dress trimmed in white chifon; Miss Annie Null's dress was a dark flowered challie trimmed in green ribbons, which helped to lend to the many personal charms of this young lady.

The prizes awarded were very beautiful and appropriate, being five in number. The first lady's prize was a handsome sewing machine, made by the Brosius Co. and won by Miss Anna Null. The gentleman's first prize went, being a Dunlap stiff hat, to Mr. Will Thomas. The second prizes were two silk umbrellas, which went to Miss Gertie Richter and Mr. George McMahan. The last, but not least, the booby prize, a minature cradle and doll baby, went to Egbert Kent.

After the prizes were awarded, dancing was indulged in till a late hour, when the guests began to depart with full and open praise of the pleasant time they had received at the hands of this illustrious club, and long will it live upon the lips of the young people of Dixon.

Long live the No Treadle Club.

There were over five hundred present.

National Union.

The Trustees of Dixon Council of the National Union, the fraternal life insurance society just organized here, have decided to hold their next meeting Wednesday night, May 23, at 8 o'clock, in the hall of the Schuler building, over Dixon National Bank. The council is looking up a suitable location for their future place of meeting, and will be unable for the present to decide. The Charter now has eighty enrolled and hopes to soon pass the one hundred mark. Those who desire to join this order can do so by being present at the next meeting at the cut rate.

College Notes.

Mr. William Shultz went home yesterday afternoon after spending three terms with us. He will return next fall for a complete Normal course.

Prof. Dille gave the students a very instructive talk at Chapel exercises yesterday morning on "work and Recreation."

The Vespera Literary Society will give the usual program this evening. A pleasant evening is anticipated and all are invited.

The Elocutionary recital given by Miss Cora White and A. J. Sweezy last evening, was a decided success. The program was interspersed with excellent music including both vocal and instrumental.

Just the Thing.

Buffaloes, as is well known, are fond of rubbing against trees and stones. A solitary bowlder will be found on the prairie with a ditch two or three feet deep around it, worn by the feet of the buffaloes. When the first telegraph line was built across the continent, says Mr. G. B. Grinnell, the poles used were light and small. Transportation over the plains was slow and expensive, and it was not thought necessary to raise the wires high above the ground. These poles were much resorted to by buffaloes to scratch against, and before long a great many of them were pushed over.

A story, now of considerable antiquity, is told of an ingenious employee of the telegraph company, who devised a plan for preventing further trouble of that sort. He expected to accomplish this by driving into the poles spikes which would prick the animals when they rubbed against them. The result somewhat astonished the inventor, for it was discovered that where formerly one buffalo rubbed against the smooth telegraph poles ten now struggled and fought for the chance to scratch themselves against the spiked poles, the iron furnishing just the irritation which their tough hides needed.—Youth's Companion.

CITY COUNCIL:—

Please consider the persons who have not got a horse to drive and would like to ride to work across the bridge in bad weather.

NORTH SIDER.

When we get street cars to and from the depot Franklin and Ashton people will come here more instead of going to Rochelle. So say Ashton and Franklin people. SALESMAN.

The extreme natural beauties of Dixon and surroundings do not seem to be fully appreciated. This is true at home and abroad. Dixon is becoming better known, however, through its factories, schools, etc., and bids fair to enjoy much greater development and prosperity. The contemplated street railway will do much towards this end. This is especially true as regards the convenience and growth of industries located in the suburbs of the city. It will materially aid in the development of the Assembly and the North Side school project. Prof. Steinmann is receiving much encouragement in his plans and will doubtless see his way clear to begin work soon. If he succeeds in disposing of all his lots and sells a few more scholarships, he will have a fund of about $25,000 to invest in the project, which will amply insure its success. A systematic canvass will be made in a few days to ascertain if the matter can be brought to a successful issue

The Wheels of Business Are Again in Motion!

A reaction has been caused by the Decrease in prices of Clothing values. Such retailing as we are doing has never been accomplished since we first laid the foundation to our Clothing Establishment in Dixon, and the only reason we can ascribe this to is the Unaproachable Bargains we offer in our different departments, which make our store THE CLOTHING STORE OF ALL OTHERS IN THIS VICINITY. It's without exaggeration that every dollar you spend with us is well spent, and a saving of from 20 to 30 per cent. Our men's suits at $9.98 are sensational values; our children's suits at 98c are unmatchable; our children's knee pants at 19c are exceptional bargains; our men's working shirts at 25c are the same other dealers ask 50c; children's washable sailor suits at 98c worth double the money.

Decoration Day G. A. R. Suits at $7.98.

A great many have taken advantage of purchasing a good quality G. A. R. suit, such as we handle, and to supply the increasing demand we have received our third shipment of these Fast Color Blue Flannel Suits, and shall sell them to members of the G. A. R. Post at the extremely low price of $7.98, with two sets of buttons. Now is certainly a good time to prepare for this occasion.

WE INVITE THE INSPECTION OF ALL LADIES to our Children's Suit Department, as our stock comprises everything which is becoming to the boys, and at undisputably the Lowest Prices. The suits come in all imaginable colors and cut in the very latest styles. D. B. coats which fit to perfection.

See our line of straw hats on display in our show window; see our line of soft and stiff hats, all shapes, styles and colors. Our colored shirts with two collars and one pair of cuffs detatched are of the latest designs and best quality, all sizes from 14 to 17 neck; they are of United Shirt and Collar Co's Brand, which is sufficient evidence of their merit.
